ANOTHER HOLD-UP.

En route to his home on Lilliston avenue, Tuesday night, Vivian Johnson, fifteen-year-old son of Geo. Johnson, was held up near the city rock quarry, by two men who wore masks over their faces. He was given a thorough search, all his pockets being turned out. Finding no money or valuables released the boy, with a stern command to say nothing about what had happened. The men then disappeared. Young Johnson hurried home and informed his father. The police were notified.

Near the same spot last Sunday night Henry Worthington, en route to his home on Lilliston avenue from a call on his brother, on Vine street, was held up at the point of a revolver by a masked man, who secured sixty-five cents from his victim.

GROWER CANNOT TWIST AND SELL HIS OWN TOBACCO.

John C. DeMoss, internal revenue collector at Covington, stated he has had numerous inquiries from farmers recently as to whether they would be permitted to twist their own tobacco and then sell it direct to the consumer. The officer said such a proceeding would be a violation of the revenue law unless the farmer would obtain a manufacturers' license.

FISCAL COURT PROCEEDINGS

The February term of the Bourbon Circuit Court convened yesterday.

A large number of claims against the county were allowed and ordered paid, and a committee appointed to make a loan, with the Sheriff. The Court then adjourned subject to call.

(Other Personals on Page 3) RIGHT AND WRONG

(Courier-Journal)
The Courier-Journal is in hearty accord with everything Geo. Behan says about the shameless "sex" screen except his contention that only the "outsiders" are responsible for it. "The salacious pictures," he holds, "are the product of outsiders. They are produced by the parasites who are sucking the blood of the industry, who for a few dollars are willing to degrade our screen and threaten the future of one of our greatest industries."

That is true, but it is not all the truth. Mr. Behan, it is greatly to be regretted, is wrong, when he tells a Louisville audience that "sex picture, the kind we have to-day, are not the product of the organized, reputable producers of motion pictures."

But not all the "reputable organized producers" are reputable if respectableness is conditioned on the production of only clean pictures. There are organized producers who produce fewer and less offensive "sex pictures" than others produce, but it is indisputable that a mass of the nauseating sex mess come from the so-called reputable organized producers.

These must mend their ways and deserve Behan's commendation if the great picture industry is to fulfill its true mission and save itself from the mischievous middlemoss of blue law busybodies.

ASSAMO

Every year is a leap year among the Garo women in Assamo, writes a missionary to the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society.

"Among those who have not been Christianized the bride takes the initiative in marriage," he says. "She goes to fetch the bridegroom, and it is etiquette for him to hide and resist until victoriously carried off. Occasionally, a man may get his wife by capture, but usually it is the woman who kidnaps him; that is to say, her male friends do it for her. One may still see such press-gangs bringing home their spoil."

"In the early days, the missionaries were inclined to rush to the rescue, thinking that violence was being committed, such is the noise made by the struggling youth. The reluctance and resistance, though, are seldom as real as they sound. If the youth dislikes the match, there is rarely any redress."

"Women of means are allowed to choose a temporary husband and when tired of him pay him off and take another."
